

The pandemic is not over yet!

Disclaimer: The information and guidance provided in this document relating to COVID-19 have been sourced from WHO guidelines and Gost. of India advisories. Reliance Foundation shall not be responsible or liable for the accuracy, completeness, suefulness or otherwise, of the information. Please weify the information before sharing and publishing this document. The information in this document is not, and should not be construed to be, legal, financial, medical, or consulting advice. The information in this document is for information in this document is for information in this document in the information in this document is not information in this document by a healthcare professional. Please consult your physician or healthcare professional to determine the adoptorisations of the information for your individual wanterments.